Stock Traders Daily's Thomas Kee Releases Top of the Market to You!

Forward Market Analysis Predicts Trading Patterns of the Market

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

PRLog (Press Release) – Sep 26, 2006 – SAN FRANCISCO, CA – September 26, 2006 – Stock Traders Daily, a specialist in Market Timing, announced the release of "Top of the Market to You!", a forward market analysis. Thomas Kee, the company's Chief Investment Strategist last issued a similar analysis in 2002 accurately predicting the low for the S&P 500 to within 3.5 points. Since that time the Market has increased 71%. Top of the Market to You! is available at the company's Web site at <http://stocktradersdaily.com/Main/registration/market%20report.html>

Chief Investment Strategist Thomas Kee stated, "Our last report accurately predicted the low and proved that our theories and methods for prediction were correct. This time we're confident that we can do the same with the market's high, giving our users a tremendous advantage in how they want to handle their investments."

The report focuses on several critical factors like birth rates and investment rates to determine capital flow into and out of the market. Based on those factors, the 2006 report shows the beginning of a down period and predicts a peak in the Dow Jones Industrial Average. This report encompasses all of the Dow 30 stocks. Some of these include: ExxonMobil Corp. (XOM:NYSE); Johnson & Johnson (JNJ:NYSE); Microsoft Corp.(MSFT:NASDAQ); Proctor & Gamble Co. (PG:NYSE) and Wal-Mart Stores Inc. (WMT:NYSE).

"Everyone from institutions to individuals can use this report. It is a demographic analysis in which we identify the Investment Rate and use it to predict Market cycles. This method has worked very well in the past."
